

Poolio's Ducts Mission Objective

Poolio Says

“Remember, we’ve got to get to Sluggo.”

Mission Objective

Make your way through the ducts as quickly as possible and exit through the Bug Door at the other end.

The Bug Door

If you've tried the level and you're still having trouble, see Basic Hints

Poolio's Ducts Basic Hints

- All roads lead to Rome.
- “Brightness is on the right.”
- Pick your fights carefully if you want to make it through the level quickly.
- Stock up on food and powerups.
- You'll know you're in the right place when you see the purple air vent (same as in the garage level.)

For hints that we really shouldn't give you on how to complete the level, try Poolio's Ducts Advanced Hints

Warning Screen

WARNING: Viewing the hints on the next screen will essentially give away the entire puzzle portion of this level. Are you sure you want to do this?

Click here to return to Basic Hints

Click here to see Advanced Hints

Poolio's Ducts Advanced Hints

- Almost all the branches of the duct reconnect eventually. If you fly carefully to avoid getting turned around, you should be able to move steadily toward the end of the level.
- In order to make sure that you don't get turned around make sure to keep the more well lit walls on your right.
- Banzai flies faster than his enemies. Many times, its best just to race by an enemy instead of risking a fight.
- There's food on the floor of the ducts. Make sure to eat enough to stay at 9 lives.
- Whenever you do destroy yellow and red buckies, get the powerups they leave behind. They'll be helpful further down the ducts, and whatever's left gets carried over into the next level.

