Overview

You are Captain Nevarro of the Pirate Ship Odyssey, searching the rich waters of the Andorian Sea for ancient sunken treasure. Battle dangerous sea creatures and fierce pirates who will attempt to send your ship to a watery grave. Strengthen your vessel by finding ammunition dumps on nearby islands. Avoid the force of the swirling whirlpools and drifting icebergs, and beware the haunted ghost ship, which is rumored to have caused many crewmen to leap to their deaths in sheer terror. If you think you can collect all ten ancient treasures while outwitting the dangers of the deep, then man your vessel and sail on in search of Pirate's Plunder.

Game Controls

You begin your quest for the treasures on a random tile in your ship, the Odyssey.

Click the left mouse button on any adjacent tile to move your ship there, including diagonal spaces.

Under each tile you will find a trap, treasure, useful item, enemy, or nothing but open seas. Items are used as soon as you find them, so watch the message box for instructions.

When you uncover an enemy character, you will immediately enter battle, with the enemy always getting the first attack. While in combat, click the left mouse button on one of your weapons on the right side of the screen to use it against the enemy. The battle will only end when either you or the enemy are defeated. You have an unlimited number of swords, but all other weapons can only be used when you have collected them from the islands. You begin the game with one of each weapon, and you can only use weapons while in combat with an enemy.

Go to the islands to receive a stash of weapons to help you fight the enemies you will encounter. There your ship will be repaired from some of the damage you may have taken.

Your ship begins with 100 hit points. Every time you fight an enemy and take damage, this number will fall. Find all ten treasures before your ship reaches 0 hit points and you win the game! When you run out of hit points, the Odyssey will be sunk, and your game will be over.

Goals

Your main objective is to find all ten ancient treasures lost to the dark sea. Other objectives are:

Visit the islands when in need of weapons and repair for your damaged vessel.

Find items to help you on your quest.

Avoid the traps in the water that can damage your ship.

Avoid being sunk by enemies.

When in battle, carefully decide which weapons to use against each enemy.

Treasures

The ancient and prized treasures that you will find on your journey are the same every game and will appear in your inventory at the bottom of the screen as you find them:

Emerald of Hope

The Golden Sword of Yr

King Flynn's Royal Sceptre

The Sacred Onyx Cross

The Lost Pearl of Jehva

Queen Latha's Crown

Ruby Ring of Power

The Silver Chalice of Aunge

Murphy's Chest of Gold

Queen Latha's Necklace

Items

Discover items to help you repair your damaged ship or find hidden treasures. All items activate as soon as they are found, so are one use only.

Sextant- This item will highlight all enemy and trap locations within a distance of two tiles (a 5 X 5 area). All undiscovered hazards in the area will flash red for a few seconds.

Tar- This item will repair a variable amount of damage to your ship sustained during battle or an encounter with natural dangers.

Spyglass- This item will show you what is under a 3 X 3 area of your choice of adjacent tiles. When the cursor changes from an anchor to crosshairs, click the left mouse button on the center of the area you wish to view. The area will flash for a few seconds, letting you see what is behind the tiles.

Map- This item gives you the location of the nearest treasure. The tile which hides the nearest treasure will flash green for a few seconds.

Islands

Find abandoned weaponry on the scattered islands of the Andorian Sea. But don't waste it since each island holds only one stash and one chance to repair your ship before heading back into the murky water.

At the start of the game, all of the islands will have ammo boxes on them. When you take your ship to one of these islands, you will receive one of each weapon, and you will gain extra hit points as your ship is repaired.

After you visit an island once, you will get no further benefit from visiting that island again in the future.

Weapons

Wield ancient and powerful weapons against your enemies. Discover your enemy's weakness and show no mercy when battling these mighty foes. The Odyssey crew always carries swords, but better weapons can be found on islands. Each weapon below works best against a particular enemy. To use a weapon during combat, click the left mouse button on that weapon.

Swords- This weapon isn't very strong, but it's always available.

Cannons- These will hurl speeding balls of lead into your enemies.

Giant Axe- Cleave your enemies in two with this mighty blade.

Flaming Arrows- Use these to shoot deadly fire at your attackers.

Harpoon- Spear your enemies with this deadly hook.

Ice Daggers- Cool off your attacker's fire with these freezing daggers.

Traps

The natural dangers of the sea are ever present. Though few, they can be very dangerous. Avoid them if you can, but if you can't, fare thee well.

Iceberg- will cut into your hull, immediately reducing your ship's hit points by 30-50%.

Whirlpool- will drag your ship down, stealing a treasure you have acquired and depositing it somewhere randomly in the sea, behind a tile your ship has never visited before.

Enemies

Fight fierce enemies who will try to stop you from completing your quest for the treasures. Some are more powerful than others, but all will make your travels difficult. The enemies you will encounter are as follows:

Giant Squid- This monster will rear up and try to squeeze the life out of your ship.

Seaweed Monster- This strange denizen of the deep will attack your ship, looking for tasty crew members to feed its hungry mouth.

Phoenix- Often thought of merely as a mythical bird that rises from the ashes, this fiery creature will toast your ship with its very real heat.

Ghost Ship- Sailing the deadly waters are the ghostly remains of other ships which have perished in the sea. They haunt these waters, looking for revenge.

Pirate Ship- You are not alone in your quest for wealth. Pirate ships will attack your vessel, looking to steal what you have rightfully found.

Battling Enemies

Battle your enemies by choosing a weapon from your arsenal. Watch as they fall beneath your blades and cannons, but beware the sharp sting of their attacks.

When an enemy is revealed under a tile, a battle is engaged. The message box will describe the battle as it occurs. Choose a weapon to use against the attacking enemy by clicking the left mouse button on the weapon you want to use, and it will damage the enemy. The trick is to figure out which weapons do the most damage to which enemies. The message box will tell you how much damage you did, and the enemy's hit points will be reduced. Hit points remaining for your ship and for the enemy are displayed on the lower right of the screen, so you will know how the battle is progressing. Every battle is fought to the death, so you cannot sail onward until you defeat the enemy.

Enemies will only be found in unexplored territory. Once you defeat an enemy, you can sail through the site of the battle safely. Islands are always safe spots -- you will never be attacked on an island.

Strategy / Helpful Hints

1. Don't go to all the islands right away even though you may need weapons, because your ship is repaired on islands, and if you have 100 hit points already (the maximum), you are wasting the valuable repair.
2. Pirate's Plunder is also a memory game. When items flash the nearest hazards or show you what is underneath them, you must try to remember which squares to avoid. One idea is to carve out the area you examined by sailing around it, leaving the hazards standing out alone. That way, you will remember not to go back to that area.
3. Scan nearby areas instead of distant ones when you get the spyglass as it is generally easier to remember where everything is. You may forget what was behind each tile if you have to sail a great distance to reach the area you examined. You can also use the islands as landmarks to help you remember.
4. Explore each section thoroughly instead of drifting haphazardly. This will help reduce confusion when you identify hazards using the sextant and must remember which areas to avoid.
5. If you use the spyglass on an area which contains both a map and a treasure, grab the treasure first, so you can then use the map to locate a different treasure. The map always reveals the location of the nearest treasure, and you will waste it if you use it to highlight a treasure you've already located.
