

Each message consists of a headline and a text body that can be created and edited in a separate dialog box.