

For maintenance purposes, you can sort the list of catalog entries by price, item name, or by description, but the sort order on your web site will be by pricing (promotions first), followed by item name.

The small icon to the left of each entry indicates whether you selected no price, regular price, or promotional price to be displayed for that item.