

Gray Scale Controls

Gray scale controls in the Image Creation section of TextArt include a slider, a text field, four radio buttons, and a feedback square that shows the currently selected grayscale.

The radio buttons allow you to select one of the four grays currently directly available on the NeXT display. You can choose any gray scale using the slider or text field. As you move the slider, the feedback square changes to show you the grayscale indicated by the slider.

Command-click on the slider to reset it to its default.
