Shadow

The Shadow option draws a shadow of your text. Use the Shadow Image Control Panel to set:

     -the shadow's angle and length
       (see Shadow Definition)
     -the shadow's offset from the text string   (see Shadow Offsets)
     -the shadow's color

Hint: While TextArt's shadow is a single image of the characters in the text string, you can create interesting shadow effects by combining TextArt images in a Layout Board Window. If you want a shadow with fill, outline, or multiple copies, you can first create the image you want to be shadowed and transfer it to a Layout Board Window. Then, use the skewing option to create an image with the angle and length you want, add any options like Fill, Outline, or Multiple, and transfer the image to the Layout Board Window. You can then place the two images to achieve the shadowing effect you want.

TextArt: The Manual:

Shadow option   p. 33