Offsets

When your text string includes a letter with a descender, such as ™p∫ or ™q∫, TextArt offsets the shadow from the baseline of the text to allow for the descender. If this isn't what you want, use the Offset Slider in the Shadow Control Window to set the offset that you want. The slider controls the vertical distance from the baseline of the text. A positive number moves the shadow closer to the baseline; a negative number moves it farther away. This slider works like all the TextArt sliders; see Slider Control under Controls for information about using sliders.
