Greetings Gang,

First off, the requisite icons... Something for "gun.com" I suppose; A set of Smith &

Wesson icons created while working the L.A. Sheriff's Department project :

The now infamous Glock 17, one of the high-capacity 9mm handguns listed in the newly signed "Crime Bill." The prices on these icons won't be going up as fast as the original...

: -)

Enjoy,

Thanks, for the recent posting of the above images.
Since this was a nice contribution to the gun list, I took the freedom to try and correct the improper 24-bit alpha values.
The images above are 12bit and include 2bit renderings.

Hi,
Only a New Yorker would think that this looks pretty cool as a directory icon.

The gun came from an obscure bit from Jan 12 '96 issue of the excellent People magazine of the mid-90's, Entertainment Weekly. 24-bit and 2-bit versions. TIFFFany2 refused to do what I wanted with this one, but IconMaker came through.
