

There's More to Life Online

WorldsAway is an online virtual world where you express yourself through an avatar -- an animated character whose looks and behavior you customize to suit yourself. Your avatar can chat and interact with others in real time as well as convey emotions through facial expressions and body gestures. This easy-to-use, immersive online world adds a rich visual environment -- and a new element of expression and interaction -- to real-time, text-based chat. Simple keystrokes or mouse clicks are all you need to walk, talk, gesture, create facial expressions, handle objects or make transactions. You can buy virtual merchandise, participate in organized and spontaneous activities, set up your own private turf and explore the streets, cafes, shops and other gathering places. Join the growing number of pioneers who are discovering this state-of-the-art "cyberplace" and take part in building a thriving virtual community in WorldsAway.
