

Mouse Coordinates Window.

This window, which is implemented as a 'floating' window, reports the current mouse location in terms of the axes of the current graph. This can be very useful to accurately determine intercepts, turning points, maxima and minima, etc.

This menu command both shows and hides the window; if it is currently open, the item is checked.