Selling the code for this program is expressly forbidden.
This is the public domain software.

Obtain permission before redistributing this software over the Internet or in any other medium.
In all cases copyright and header must remain intact.

"Online Journal" is a powerful content management tool. Whether you are designing or supporting an e-zine with many pages, an online book with many chapters, or even a picture gallery - you can easily add/remove entries just by placing/deleting text files with consequent names into the designated directory on your server. "Online Journal" doesn't accept any site visitor's input - it's a webmaster's tool.
