

Technical Support Policy

The help file containing the technical support policy has not been properly installed. Please reinstall the program you are using or else copy the techsupp.hlp file from the installation source (the original CD or diskette, or the directory where the downloaded setup files are contained) into the main directory for this program.

