

If I speak with human tongues and angelic as well,
but do not have love,
I am a noisy gong, a clanging cymbal.

LOVE

A black and white illustration of a hand striking a cymbal. The hand is positioned as if about to hit or has just hit the cymbal. Radiating lines emanate from the point of contact, suggesting vibration or sound. The cymbal is shown in a three-quarter view, with its curved surface and central boss visible.

is patient,
is kind
is not jealous,
does not put on airs,
is not snobbish,
is never rude,
is not self-seeking,

is not prone to anger,
does not brood over injuries,
does not rejoice in what is wrong, but rejoices with the truth. . . .
LOVE NEVER FAILS.
