The <Hide All> command enables you to turn off displaying all masterpage link elements in the document. After executing this command the labeling of the menu entry changes to <Show All> for making the elements visible again.

Note: Hidden elements are only invisible, but behave as visible elements do, i.e, they can be preselected, selected and even edited.

This command is only accesible if masterpages are assigned to documentpages.

Both command affect all masterpage link elements within a document. If you want to hide or show single elements, you can use the element options of the Element Inspector (`;ElementInspector.rtf;Option;↵`).
