

Credit Card Math (32-bit) v2.01

License Agreement

Credit Card Math is Copyright © 1994-1998 by Michael J. Riley.
All rights reserved.

Credit Card Math is NOT nor ever has been, public domain software.

All users are granted an unlimited license to copy Credit Card Math for the purpose of allowing others to try it subject to the following restrictions:

Credit Card Math must be distributed in absolutely unmodified form, to include ALL program, documentation, and other files.

No charge or payment may be accepted for Credit Card Math.

All shareware vendors/distribution firms must clearly explain and/or explicitly state to the purchaser of shareware diskettes that the purchase of shareware programs has NOT registered the software with the author.

Bulletin Board systems operators may post the Credit Card Math on their BBS for downloading by their users without written permission only if the above conditions are met, and only if no special fee is necessary to access the Credit Card Math files (a general fee to access the BBS is ok).

Distributors of "Public Domain", "Shareware" and/or "User Supported" software may distribute Credit Card Math without written permission only if the above conditions are met. A nominal fee of not more than $5.00 may be charged to the end user to cover the cost of duplication of Credit Card Math. This condition statement supersedes all previous agreements.
