

Hello Tenchi Fans

Thank you for downloading this Theme. Just wanted to go over some things about it. The main arrow cursor is Tenchi's lighthawk sword--the upper left corner is the "hot" spot. So anytime you click on something the upper left corner is where you need to look at. Concerning the Wallpaper image---You're probably saying "I can't see the last row of images!". Well here's the fix. RIGHTclick on the taskbar--located at the bottom of your Screen. LEFT click on "Properties" ----then LEFT click on "Auto Hide" and finally LEFT click on "Apply". Now the taskbar will hide itself till you move your cursor on it. There are a few extra icons in case you want to switch them around. The wallpaper enclosed (2 versions) is also switchable. I wanted one wallpaper to (roughly) tell the story of Manatsu No Eve and the other wallpaper to show some of the favorite scenes. I wanted to make this theme appeal to Tenchi fans (not just me) so I asked for opinions and requests from the Tenchi Mailing list (Thank you Scott, TenchiMP, Crusader, Billy, Happosai, and LadySakuya). Concerning the screensaver---The midi came from Mark Clifton's Web site (washu.simplenet.com)--he has lots of media stuff there and it's a great site. It seems everytime I make a Theme I have lots of extras that just can't be included due to size (I try to keep the size down for quicker download). The extras are more Icons, Wallpapers, Cursors, and Sound Wavs. Heck you could make another Theme with this stuff. If you like to switch up the Theme and keep it Manatsu related or you like my stuff it will be available at "sparc.lps.org/scoleman/sammy.htm". It will be an "Add On Pack" for this Theme. (This site also has a lot of extra icons, wallpapers, sounds, and Themes. It's a great site to get free stuff.) This Theme is my Third one in the Tenchi Universe (First one was "No Need for Themes" and my second one was "Ryoko's Birth"--shameless plug I know) and it will be my last for now. I'll be making more Themes in other Anime Worlds. I'm going to make a Ninja Scroll Theme next. I feel there's still a lot of Tenchi material out there--I haven't touched the Universe Collection. Also when Shin Tenchi (Tenchi in Tokyo) becomes available on DVD I'll definitely make another Theme. So I'll be back----just don't know when. I also want to thank otakuworld (thanks Dov) for finding homes for my themes. Does anyone really read this text stuff? Anyway if you would like to complain or praise my themes you can reach me at garyneuworth@worldnet.att.net

Sincerely

Gary Neuworth
