

one of the greatest military engagements won by Napoleon I. It took place near the village of Austerlitz (now Slavkov, Czech Republic) on December 2, 1805, between a French army of about 68,000 and an Austro-Russian army of nearly 90,000.