

Do you want to be more than just another cog in the wheel?

We owe our success in the automobile industry to the commitment of our employees. Since the company was founded in 1954 we have firmly believed that if you want to build the best cars you need the best workers.

We have vacancies for the following (to start immediately):

Sales Engineer

The emphasis here is on advising and supporting our customers and dealerships. This includes project work and organizational talents as well as researching new markets for our products.

Requirements are a university degree in the area of general machine construction/motor engineering, some experience in marketing, team spirit, friendliness and willingness to travel (mostly inland).

Designer

to join our product group "active vehicle dynamics control."

We expect the successful candidate to have a degree in machine construction/motor engineering and several years experience in design. Knowledge of the design and optimization of curves and/or steering techniques would be of advantage.

At Recar you will find a secure and challenging workplace in a modern business environment.
