Introduction

The Eudora Division of QUALCOMM Incorporated has added functionality to Eudora Pro Email by incorporating new software packages that work in tandem with the Eudora Pro e-mail program. These new plug-ins expand Eudora Pro's capabilities and give you richer e-mail functionality.

These software packages are included in the Eudora Pro version 4.0. They are as follows:

- McAfee® VirusScan™—OEM Internet Version, the leading anti-virus solution
- AOL® Instant Messenger™, an online chat application.

Note. QUALCOMM provides technical support for PureVoice and Eudora Pro only. See your Eudora Pro user manual for the technical support phone number and e-mail address.

AOL and McAfee support their own products. For their support information, see their respective sections in this document.

McAfee VirusScan—OEM Internet Version

McAfee VirusScan is the market leader in anti-virus software. VirusScan checks your e-mail attachments for any known viruses that may be present. If a virus is detected, VirusScan alerts you and removes the virus automatically from your attachment. VirusScan is continuously and automatically scanning your system for viruses.

There are separate installers for McAfee VirusScan depending on whether you are running Windows 95 or Windows NT. Make sure you select the appropriate installer for your system.

For complete VirusScan documentation, install and launch VirusScan and refer to its ReadMe file and online Help. You can find the VirusScan manual in the Eudora Bookshelf folder. AOL Instant Messenger

AOL Instant Messenger allows you to communicate instantly with your family, friends, and business colleagues, no matter where they are on the Internet or on AOL. You can exchange messages for private, one-to-one, interactive chats.
