To change or create the button image, click a color in the Colors box, and then click pixels in the Picture box. If a pixel in the Picture box is the color you want, you can also right-click the pixel to select the color.

To remove the color from pixels in the Picture box, click the Erase box, and then click the pixels. When you erase the color from a pixel, it appears as part of the background of the button.

Click an arrow in the Move box to move the image one row or column in the Picture box. An arrow button is not available if there is no space to move in that direction in the Picture box.

Erases the button image. If you are modifying an existing button, the original button image remains in the Commands box on the Commands tab in the Customize dialog box.

Shows how the button looks.
