

MICROSOFT PRE-RELEASE SOFTWARE LICENSE TERMS

MICROSOFT WINDOWS VISTA STARTER BETA

MICROSOFT WINDOWS VISTA BETA

MICROSOFT WINDOWS SERVER CODE NAMED "LONGHORN" BETA

---

These license terms are an agreement between Microsoft Corporation (or based on where you live, one of its affiliates) and you. Please read them. They apply to the pre-release software named above, which includes the media on which you received it, if any. The terms also apply to any Microsoft

- updates,
- supplements,
- Internet-based services, and
- support services for this software, unless other terms accompany those items. If so, those terms apply.

By using the software, you accept these terms. If you do not accept them, do not use the software.

As described below, using some features also operates as your consent to the transmission of certain standard computer information for Internet-based services.

If you comply with these license terms, you have the rights below.

1. INSTALLATION AND USE RIGHTS.

- a. You may install and use any number of copies of the software on your premises to design, develop and test your programs for use with the software. You may use as many copies of the software as the product key permits.
- b. You may not test the software in a live operating environment unless Microsoft permits you to do so under another agreement.
- c. Time-Sensitive Software. The software will stop running on 30/09/2006. You will not receive any other notice. You may not be able to access data used with the software when it stops running.
- d. Font Components. While the software is running, you may use its fonts (including software, metrics and data) to display and print content. You may only:
  - Embed fonts in content as permitted by the embedding restrictions in the fonts; and
  - Temporarily download them to a printer or other output device to help print content.
- e. Icons, images and other visual assets. Subject to these license terms, you may not copy, use or modify the icons, images and other visual assets in the software for any other purpose.

2. POTENTIALLY UNWANTED SOFTWARE. The software will search your computer for “spyware,” “adware” and other potentially unwanted software (“Potentially Unwanted Software”). If it finds Potentially Unwanted Software, the software will ask you if you want to ignore, disable (quarantine) or remove it. The software will only remove or disable Potentially Unwanted Software as you instruct it. Removing or disabling Potentially Unwanted Software may cause other software on your computer to stop working, and it may cause you to breach a license to use other software on your computer, if the other software installed Potentially Unwanted Software on your computer as a condition of your use of the other software. You should read the license agreements for other software before authorizing the removal of any Potentially Unwanted Software. By using this software, it is possible that you will also remove or disable software that is not Potentially Unwanted Software. You are solely responsible for selecting which Potentially Unwanted Software the software removes or disables.
3. INTERNET-BASED SERVICES. Microsoft provides Internet-based services with the software. It may change or cancel them at any time.
  - a. Consent for Internet-Based Services. The software features described below connect to Microsoft or service provider computer systems over the Internet. In some cases, you will not receive a separate notice when they connect. You may switch off these features or not use them. For more information about these features, see <http://go.microsoft.com/fwlink/?LinkId=34493> and <http://go.microsoft.com/fwlink/?LinkId=38670>. By using these features, you consent to the transmission of this information. Microsoft does not use the information to identify or contact you.
    - i. Computer Information. The following features use Internet protocols, which send to the appropriate systems computer information, such as your Internet protocol address, the type of operating system, browser and name and version of the software you are using, and the language code of the device where you installed the software. Microsoft uses this information to make the Internet-based services available to you.
      - Windows Update Feature. You may connect new hardware to the device where you installed the software. Your device may not have the drivers needed to communicate with that hardware. If so, the update feature of the software can obtain the correct driver from Microsoft and install it on your device. You can switch off this update feature.
      - Web Content Features. Features in the software can retrieve related content from Microsoft and provide it to you. To provide the content, these features send to Microsoft the type of operating system, name and version of the software you are using, type of browser and language code of the device where you installed the software. Examples of these features are clip art, templates, online training, online assistance and Appshelp. You may choose not to use these web content features.
      - Digital Certificates. The software uses digital certificates. These digital certificates confirm the identity of Internet users sending X.509 standard encrypted information. The software retrieves certificates and updates certificate revocation lists. These security features operate only when you use the Internet.
      - Auto Root Update. The Auto Root Update feature updates the list of trusted certificate authorities. You can switch off the Auto Root Update feature.
      - Windows Media Digital Rights Management. Content owners use Windows Media digital rights management technology (WMDRM) to protect their intellectual property, including copyrights. This software and third party software use WMDRM to play and copy WMDRM-protected content. If the software fails to protect the content, content owners may ask Microsoft to revoke the software’s ability to use WMDRM to play or copy protected content. Revocation does not affect other content. When you download licenses for protected content, you agree that Microsoft may include a revocation list with the licenses. Content owners may require you to upgrade WMDRM to access their content. Microsoft software that includes WMDRM will ask for your consent prior to the upgrade. If you decline an upgrade, you will not be able to access content that requires the upgrade. You may switch off WMDRM features that access the Internet. When these features are off, you can still play content for which you have a valid license.

- Windows Media Player. When you use Windows Media Player, it checks with Microsoft for
  - compatible online music services in your region;
  - new versions of the player; and
  - codecs if your device does not have the correct ones for playing content.

You can switch off this last feature. For more information, go to www.microsoft.com/windows/windowsmedia/mp10/privacy.aspx.

- Customer Experience Improvement Program (CEIP) and Error Reports. This software uses CEIP, which automatically sends to Microsoft anonymous information about your hardware and how you use this software. This software also automatically sends error reports to Microsoft that describe which software components had errors. No files or memory dumps will be sent unless you choose to send them. From time-to-time, we will also download a small file to your computer that permits us to collect information about specific errors you have while using the software. For more information about CEIP, see <http://ceip.microsoft.com>. For more information about Error Reports, see <http://go.microsoft.com/fwlink/?LinkId=34493> and <http://go.microsoft.com/fwlink/?LinkId=31490>.
- Malicious Software Removal/Clean On Upgrade. Before installation of the software, the software will check your device for certain malicious software listed at <http://support.microsoft.com/?kbid=890830> ("Malware") and if detected, the software will remove Malware from your device. This software is updated periodically through Automatic updates. To detect and remove future Malware from your device, you will need to run the Malware component of this software each time it is updated. When the software checks your device for Malware, a report will be sent to Microsoft about any Malware detected or errors that occur while the software is checking for Malware. No information that can be used to identify you is included in the report. If you choose, the software's Malware reporting functionality can be disabled by following the instructions found at <http://support.microsoft.com/?kbid=890830>. If you receive updates via Automatic Updates, you will only be able to stop receiving updates to this software if you turn off Automatic Updates entirely.
- Updated Definition Files. When you install the software, or when you use the software, you may choose to obtain updated Potentially Unwanted Software definitions automatically when you connect to the Internet. The software uses the updated definitions to detect new Potentially Unwanted Software.
- Spynet. When you install the software, or when you use the software, you may choose to share information about Potentially Unwanted Software and their signatures with Spynet. SpyNet is a network community that connects users of the software together to identify and share information about Potentially Unwanted Software and signatures. This community reports potential threats identified by features in the software to the SpyNet servers that catalog and update the system to help protect users of the software from new spyware threats.

- Phishing Filter. This software can warn you if the website you are visiting might be impersonating a trusted website. For more information go to <http://go.microsoft.com/fwlink/?Linkid=20615>

ii. Use of Information. We may use the computer information, error reports, CEIP information, and Malware reports, to improve our software and services. We may also share it with others, such as hardware and software vendors. They may use the information to improve how their products run with Microsoft software.

b. Misuse of Internet-based Services. You may not use these services in any way that could harm them or impair anyone else's use of them. You may not use the services to try to gain unauthorized access to any service, data, account or network by any means.

4. MANDATORY ACTIVATION. To prevent its unlicensed use, you will not be able to use the software if you do not activate it as described during installation. You can activate the software by Internet or telephone; Internet and telephone service charges may apply. Some changes to your computer components or the software may require you to reactivate the software. The software will remind you to activate until you do.

5. CONFIDENTIALITY.

a. Confidential Information. The software, including its user interface, features, documentation and activation code, is proprietary and confidential to Microsoft and its suppliers. The results of any testing you conduct on the software are also confidential.

b. Use. For a period of 2 years after installation of the software or until its commercial release, whichever occurs first, you may not disclose confidential information to third parties, including reproducing, disseminating or posting screenshots of the software and related information. You may disclose confidential information to third parties only if you obtain prior written consent from Microsoft's legal department. You may contact them at oseula@microsoft.com. You may disclose confidential information only to your employees and subcontractors who need to know such information. You must have written agreements with them that protect the confidential information at least as much as this agreement.

c. Survival. Your duty to protect confidential information survives this agreement.

d. Exclusions. You may disclose confidential information in response to a judicial or governmental order. You must first give written notice to Microsoft to allow it to seek a protective order or otherwise protect the information. Confidential information does not include information that you can document:

- becomes publicly known through no wrongful act;
- you received from a third party who did not breach confidentiality obligations to Microsoft or its suppliers; or
- you developed independently.

6. PRODUCT KEYS. The software requires a key to install or access it. You are responsible for the use of keys assigned to you. You should not share the keys with third parties.

7. PRE-RELEASE SOFTWARE. This software is a pre-release version. It may not work the way a final version of the software will. We may change it for the final, commercial version. We also may not release a commercial version.
8. FEEDBACK. Because this is pre-release software, you agree to give feedback about the software to Microsoft. You give to Microsoft, without charge, the right to use, share and commercialize your feedback in any way and for any purpose. You also give to third parties, without charge, any patent rights needed for their products, technologies and services to use or interface with any specific parts of a Microsoft software or service that includes the feedback. You will not give feedback that is subject to a license that requires Microsoft to license its software or documentation to third parties because we include your feedback in them. These rights survive this agreement.
9. MICROSOFT .NET FRAMEWORK BENCHMARK TESTING. The software includes the .NET Framework component of the Windows operating systems (“.NET Component”). You may conduct internal benchmark testing of the .NET (“.NET Component”). You may disclose the results of any benchmark test of the .NET Component, provided that you comply with the following terms: (1) you must disclose all the information necessary for replication of the tests, including complete and accurate details of your benchmark testing methodology, the test scripts/cases, tuning parameters applied, hardware and software platforms tested, the name and version number of any third party testing tool used to conduct the testing, and complete source code for the benchmark suite/harness that is developed by or for you and used to test both the .NET Component and the competing implementation(s); (2) you must disclose the date(s) that you conducted the benchmark tests, along with specific version information for all Microsoft software products tested, including the .NET Component; (3) your benchmark testing was performed using all performance tuning and best practice guidance set forth in the product documentation and/or on Microsoft’s support web sites, and uses the latest updates, patches and fixes available for the .NET Component and the relevant Microsoft operating system; (4) it shall be sufficient if you make the disclosures provided for above at a publicly available location such as a website, so long as every public disclosure of the results of your benchmark test expressly identifies the public site containing all required disclosures; and (5) nothing in this provision shall be deemed to waive any other right that you may have to conduct benchmark testing. The foregoing obligations shall not apply to your disclosure of the results of any customized benchmark test of the .NET Component, whereby such disclosure is made under confidentiality in conjunction with a bid request by a prospective customer, such customer’s application(s) are specifically tested and the results are only disclosed to such specific customer. Notwithstanding any other agreement you may have with Microsoft, if you disclose such benchmark test results, Microsoft shall have the right to disclose the results of benchmark tests it conducts of your products that compete with the .NET Component, provided it complies with the same conditions above.

NOTICE: APPLICATIONS AND SERVICES BUILT WITH MICROSOFT VISUAL J# 2005 WILL RUN ONLY IN THE MICROSOFT .NET FRAMEWORK. VISUAL J# 2005 HAS BEEN INDEPENDENTLY DEVELOPED BY MICROSOFT. IT IS NOT ENDORSED OR APPROVED BY SUN MICROSYSTEMS, INC.

10. SCOPE OF LICENSE. The software is licensed, not sold. This agreement only gives you some rights to use the software. Microsoft reserves all other rights. Unless applicable law gives you more rights despite this limitation, you may use the software only as expressly permitted in this agreement. In doing so, you must comply with any technical limitations in the software that only allow you to use it in certain ways. You may not
- disclose the results of any benchmark tests of the software, other than the Microsoft .NET Framework (see separate term above), to any third party without Microsoft’s prior written approval;
  - work around any technical limitations in the software;

- reverse engineer, decompile or disassemble the software, except and only to the extent that applicable law expressly permits, despite this limitation;
- make more copies of the software than specified in this agreement or allowed by applicable law, despite this limitation;
