

The installation location is the drive or partition on which you want to install Windows. The computer name you choose will appear on the logon screen.