Conflicting edits have been made to the same message.   The different versions of the message appear below.   To resolve this conflict, do one of the following:

1. Specify one of the messages as the master message and merge any information you need from the other messages into the master.   Then choose the Keep This Item button to replace the conflict message with the master, discarding other versions.

2. Preserve the different versions of the message by choosing the Keep All button.   This will replace the conflict message with a new message for each of the versions listed here.