F5: Copy file (s)

The Copy command allows you to copy files and directories.
If no files are selected in the current panel, the file/directory under the cursor bar in the panel will be copied. You can copy a group of files/directories that you've marked with the Ins key

Notes:

You'll be asked for confirmation before existing files are overwritten.

While the copy operation is in progress you will get the indication of percentage of copied bytes to   total number of bytes in all the   files to be copied.

Pressing Esc key at any time will stop the operation.
