Pages in ProView

Pages are the basic working environment for ProView.   Each page may be viewed and edited full screen or in an individual window.   Whenever you start a new project you will be asked to name the first page, which is then automatically created for you.   Since a project is just a collection of pages, if you don't have any pages you don't have a project.