Just Watch Those Trucks Explode

Picking It Out of the Sky

If you leave one A-10 to survive, follow it to the tobacco fields, and then destroy it, you will notice a wing of B-52's overhead. Head up and pick each one out of the sky with 2 Mavericks. Watch them flip!

locking the Road

his may be hard, but it sure is fun! First of all, you need to hurry. Get to the fields ASAP. See the road that goes down the hill, where all the tobacco trucks roll in from? Head to it. Give a little burst of the cannon to the first one you see. Be careful not to destroy it. Hope as hard as you can it will topple over sideways and block the road. If it doesn't, you'll need to restart the mission and try again.

nce you have it toppled over sideways, just wait. All the other trucks will skid to a halt next to it (sometimes almost falling over) and line up neatly in single file. If you wait long enough, you will have a line of trucks all the way up the hill!

For an added bonus, find out where the B-52's drop their bombs. Restart the mission and line them up there. Once the bombs are dropped, you will have a line of trucks all exploding one next to the other!

f you can't seem to get the trucks lined up, you can still have some fun with them. Giving them a couple of cannon shots in the right place can send them skidding. An exploding truck shoots out tons of debris.

But my favorite is the scene below. It is a scene of what happens when the bombs are dropped. Sorry—

I could only get two trucks lined up. You see one truck's fateful demise, another one sent flying off, and the fateful demise of a 57-milimeter battery.
