

Clicking on the tabs on the left side of the screen displays information on who is winning, first as a total, and then rated according to internal development, diplomatic success, and military power. The lowest tab on the left side compares the Powers' merchant marine.

On the right side, clicking on the tabs displays screens comparing world exports, industrial output, labor force, overseas profits, and transport capacity.