

If your miner has finished his first mine and your Engineer has constructed a new railhead, you can continue your internal development.

This turn you should:

1. Open a new mine if you have discovered additional minerals.

2. Begin to use the Engineer to get some fruit for your workers, unless you have already built a depot that gathers fruit. Of the various types of food, fruit is the one you lack near your capital.