pple Easter Eggs

Compiled and created by Daniel Fanton

This is a collection combined from various internet sites, BBS services, books, and people.   You don't have to search into the depths of literature and the net to find a Mac system easter egg when all commonly known eggs in existence are in this list.   Also slipped in are some undocumented tricks. If you have any other eggs or liked this list please e-mail me at "I Xist" on AOL and IXist@aol.com over the internet.   You will be rewarded with a copy of this sent to you every time it is updated, and you will have your name and internet address printed below the egg you provided.

Version 1.2 has all the eggs in the previous version and plenty more.   All added eggs have an Apple logo next to them (). Besides that I fixed an icon problem and corrected many spelling mistakes.   I also added development names to my list which are in quotes next to the application or OS.   A separate complete list of Mac development names will be available soon, but I need more.   If anyone knows any at all that I don't already have that would be great.   I'll send you a copy of the list.   Thanks.
