I was born in 1977 in Castellammare di Stabia (Italy). My real life as a Macintosh programmer started about five years ago. After I left high school I spent one year studying Computer Science at the University of Pisa and was spared from that boredom by a few job offers in the U.S.

I moved to Austin, TX in late 96 and worked on the Macintosh version of the Pager for a startup company named ichat. I abandoned the company late last year, ready to seek new adventures and fortunes.

I am now attending the University of Texas at Austin, and writing freeware in my spare time. I'm drooling over the idea of writing games for our beloved platform...
