

A font is named after a city, such as Chicago, New York, Geneva, etc., or is a System font (such as "Charcoal"), and these fonts usually print as bitmaps (low quality) and should therefore be avoided.