

The effective resolutions (image dpi times scale factor) do not fit within the specified range and this will cause the printout of the images to lose quality. 1.5 to 2.0 times the line screen is a commonly accepted range.