

The flatness of some images are not within the specified range and this will cause the printout of the images, their bezier curves and clipping paths, to lose quality. A value of 8 to 10 is recommended for high-resolution printing (1200-2400 dpi) and 1 to 3 for low-resolution (300-600 dpi).