Why are we called 1984?

After the two thousandth email asking me why I called the ezine 1984 I'll come clean and tell you if you can't work it out.

1984 'IS' the year it all began for Mac users. The term Mac came into being with the release of the 128k Macintosh computer. The 128 was the most innovative machine of its era.

Just like today, Mac's are the innovative machines others follow and can only wonder how it's done. I wanted something short and to the point, 1984 was the year it all began and we are a homage to that. 1984 online magazine carries the attributes and philosophies that made Apple what it is to day- Style and thinking different.

The right to review

1984 online ezine is affiliated to no one, we speak for ourselves and are 100% independent.. We try to evaluate software/hardware from an unbiased user point of view .

If you have anything you believe we should cover let us know. Similarly if your company has just released/updated a product for the MacPlatform please contact us to discuss evaluation copies and release date/promotions.
