

To continue using Startup Doubler beyond the free trial period, please pay the $20 shareware registration fee. To register on-line please follow the link to the order page at <http://marcmoini.com>, under Registering.

Or you may use the attached Register application to register by e-mail, fax or postal mail. Please run the application and turn on Balloon Help for assistance. Register may be downloaded from the web page above if it's missing from your installation.

Registrations are handled by the Kagi shareware service. After processing your payment, Kagi will send you a receipt with your registration code. To complete your registration and eliminate these reminders, please open the Startup Doubler control panel, click Register, then enter your name and code as spelled in Kagi's message.

If you wish to stop using the program, use the Startup Doubler installer to Remove it. A person or family using the program on several computers need only pay for one copy. Site licenses are available so organizations do not need to track the exact number of copies they use. Updates are free to registered users, get them from the web page!
